

Build a helpful home, one device at a time.

With Google Home, it's easy to build and automate your smart home. Choose from thousands of devices to make your home more comfortable, safe, and efficient.

Google Home is ready for Matter and Thread.

Experience increased compatibility and confident connectivity with Matter and Thread.¹ Matter helps ensure your smart home is easier to build, faster to set up, and more responsive and reliable. And Thread helps extend the overall strength, capability, and reach of your smart home.

Look for the Matter and Thread badges on devices.

Helpful devices for your entire home.

With Google Home, your Google and Matter devices work together reliably to help around the home. Just look for smart devices with a Works with Google Home or Matter badge.

Let Google Home do it.

Create helpful routines with your favorite smart home devices⁴. Schedule your doors to lock automatically at sunset⁵. Set your porch lights to turn on when you leave the house.

Dinnertime made easy.

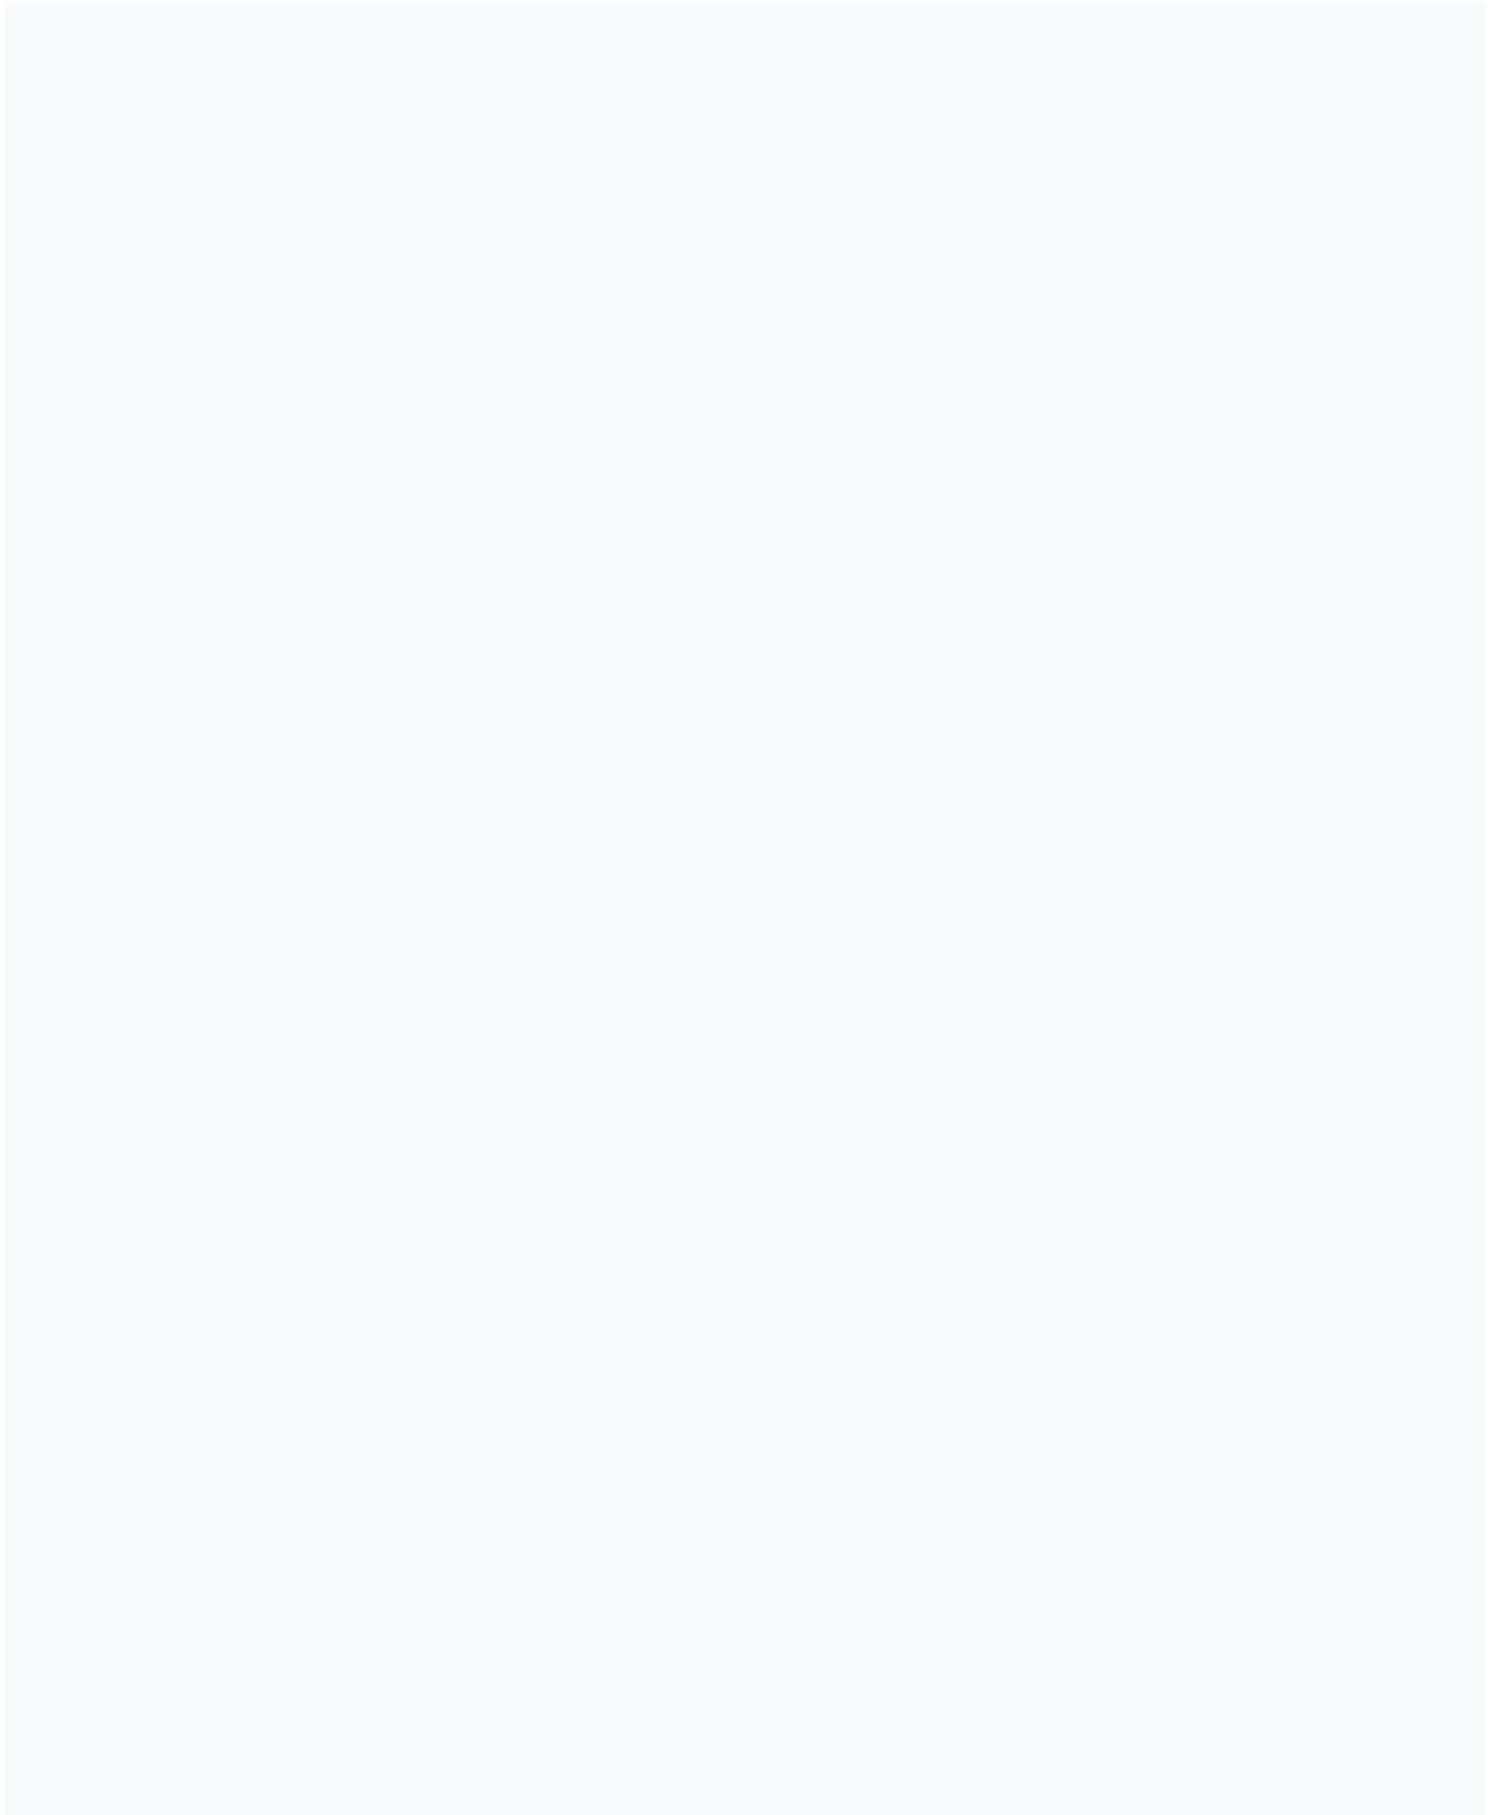

Google can help bring your family to the table. Create a custom Routine to announce that dinner's almost ready, turn on the dining room lights, and even start playing your favorite playlist⁵. All with a single command.^{2,4}

¹ Many Google devices will be automatically updated to support Matter. Check g.co/nest/matternow for more information on Matter-enabled devices and functionality.

² Requires a compatible smart device.

³ Requires working internet and Wi-Fi.

⁴ Home Routines require additional enrollment and setup, and depend on working internet, Wi-Fi and service availability from Google and third parties that manufacture devices included in the Routines.

⁵ Home Routines should be used as a convenience feature for everyday home routines and not for life-sustaining or safety-critical use cases. Routines may not always work and Google is not responsible for any harms or losses incurred as a result of any failed Routine.
